TBR Associates Laundry Consulting Firm Launched

The Tingue family of companies welcomes J.R. Ryan as president of TBR Associates. This new company helps laundries and other companies reduce operating costs, save energy, increase capacity, improve throughput and promote worker safety, among other improvements. With a 30-year track record as an operator and consultant, Ryan can identify and remove the systemic, often unseen waste that gets in the way of growth and consistent profitability.

With the recovery from Hurricane Sandy, the election season and the tough economy, it's no wonder Thanksgiving hasn't led the top of the news with the attention it rightfully deserves (and was there a Halloween this year?). Yet it's in these trying times that recognizing what we have becomes even more important.

I'm especially grateful for close family, friends and respected colleagues and I'll be extra careful to savor every minute of Thanksgiving this year.

Wishing everyone a warm and happy holiday, with many thanks,

Ty Acton
